Using this book

What is a collocation?

Collocation means a natural combination of words; it refers to the way English words are closely associated with each other. For example, do and homework go together, as do make and mistakes; tall goes with man/woman and high with mountain.

Why learn collocations?

You need to learn collocations because they will help you to speak and write English in a more natural and accurate way. People will probably understand what you mean if you talk about 'making your homework' or say 'My uncle is a very high man' but your language will sound unnatural and might perhaps confuse. Did you mean that your uncle is two metres tall or did you mean that he has a high position in government or business?

Learning collocations will also help you to increase your range of English vocabulary. For example, you'll find it easier to avoid words like very or nice or beautiful or get by choosing a word that fits the context better and has a more precise meaning. This is particularly useful if you are taking a written exam in English and want to make a good impression on the examiners.

How were the collocations in the book selected?

The collocations presented in this book were mainly selected from those identified as significant by the Cambridge International Corpus of written and spoken English (now known as the Cambridge English Corpus) and also the CANCODE corpus of spoken English, developed at the University of Nottingham in association with Cambridge University Press. The Cambridge English Corpus is a vast database of real English taken from a range of sources, such as books, newspapers, advertising, letters and emails, websites, conversations and speeches, radio and television. By studying this corpus we obtained a representative picture of how English is really used and which words naturally and frequently go together. We also made much use of the Cambridge Learner Corpus, a corpus of learner English made up of exam scripts from students taking Cambridge English examinations all over the world. This particular corpus showed us what kind of collocation errors learners tend to make.

These corpora show that there are many thousands of collocations in English. So how could we select which ones would be most useful for you to work on in this book?

Firstly, of course, we wanted to choose ones that you might want to use in your own written and spoken English. So, in the unit on Eating and drinking we include, for example, have a quick snack and processed food but not cocoa butter, which is a very strong collocation, but one which has very limited use for most people.

Secondly, we decided it would be most useful for you if we focused on those collocations which are not immediately obvious and which the Cambridge Learner Corpus shows can cause problems for students. A friendly girl, cold water or to eat an apple are all collocations, but they are combinations which you can easily understand and produce yourself without any problems. So we deal here with less obvious – though equally useful – word combinations, with, for instance, make friends (not get friends) and heavy rain (not strong rain).

Idioms are a special type of collocation where a fixed group of words has a meaning that cannot be guessed by knowing the meaning of the individual words. We deal with them separately in English Idioms in Use and so do not focus on them here.

How is the book organised?

The book has 60 two-page units. The left-hand page presents the collocations that are focused on in the unit. You will usually find examples of collocations in typical contexts with, where appropriate, any special notes about their meaning and their usage. The right-hand page checks that you have understood the information on the left-hand page by giving you a series of exercises that practise the material just presented.

The units are organised into different sections. First we start with important information about collocations in general. Then there are sections looking at grammatical and other special aspects of collocations. The rest of the book deals with collocations that relate to particular topics such as Weather or Business, concepts such as Time or Change and functions such as Agreeing and disagreeing or Liking and disliking.

The book has a key to all the exercises and an index which lists all the collocations we deal with and indicates the units where they can be found.

How should I use this book?

We recommend that you work through the five introductory units first so that you become familiar with the nature of collocations and with how best to study them. After that, you may work on the units in any order that suits you.

What else do I need in order to work with this book?

You need a notebook or file in which you can write down the collocations that you study in this book as well as any others that you come across elsewhere.

You also need to have access to a good dictionary. We strongly recommend the Cambridge Learner's Dictionary or the Cambridge Advanced Learner's Dictionary, as both of these give exactly the kind of information that you need to have about collocations. They do this both through the examples provided for each word entry and through their special collocations boxes or mini-panels. For more information about Cambridge dictionaries and to do online searches you could go to http://dictionary.cambridge.org. Your teacher, however, may also be able to recommend other dictionaries that you will find useful.

So, a study of collocation is highly recommended (Unit 6) if you want to make a good impression (Unit 2) with your natural and accurate use of English. Above all, we hope that you will not only learn a lot but will also have fun (Unit 9) as you do the exercises (Unit 7) in this book.

A collocation is a pair or group of words that are often used together. These combinations sound natural to native speakers, but students of English have to make a special effort to learn them because they are often difficult to guess. Some combinations just sound 'wrong' to native speakers of English. For example, the adjective fast collocates with cars, but not with a glance.

We say	We don't say
fast cars	quick cars
fast food	quick food
a quick glance	a fast glance
a quick meal	a fast meal

Learning collocations is an important part of learning the vocabulary of a language. Some collocations are fixed, or very strong, for example take a photo, where no word other than take collocates with photo to give the same meaning. Some collocations are more open, where several different words may be used to give a similar meaning, for example keep to / stick to the rules. Here are some more examples of collocations.

You must make an effort and study for your exams (NOT do an effort) Did you watch TV last night? (NOT look at TV)

This car has a very powerful engine. It can do 200 km an hour. (NOT strong engine)

There are some ancient monuments nearby. (NOT antique monuments)

Sometimes, a pair of words may not be absolutely wrong, and people will understand what is meant, but it may not be the natural, normal collocation. If someone says I did a few mistakes, they will be understood, but a fluent speaker of English would probably say I made a few mistakes.

B Compounds and idioms

Compounds are units of meaning formed with two or more words. Sometimes the words are written separately, sometimes they have a hyphen and sometimes they are written as one word. Usually the meaning of the compound can be guessed by knowing the meaning of the individual words. Some examples of compounds are car park, post office, narrow-minded, shoelaces, teapot.

It is not always easy to separate collocations and compounds and, where they are useful for learners or an important part of the vocabulary of a topic, we include some compounds in this book too.

Idioms are groups of words in a fixed order that have a meaning that cannot be guessed by knowing the meaning of the individual words. For example, pass the buck is an idiom meaning 'to pass responsibility for a problem to another person to avoid dealing with it oneself'. We deal with idioms in detail in the book English Idioms in Use in this series.

C Why learn collocations?

Learning collocations is a good idea because they can:

- a) give you the most natural way to say something: smoking is strictly forbidden is more natural than smoking is strongly forbidden.
- b) give you alternative ways of saying something, which may be more colourful/expressive or more precise: instead of repeating It was very cold and very dark, we can say It was bitterly cold and pitch dark.
- c) improve your style in writing: instead of saying poverty causes crime, you can say poverty breeds crime; instead of saying a big meal you can say a substantial meal. You may not need or want to use these in informal conversations, but in writing they can give your text more variety and make it read better: this book includes notes about formality wherever the collocations are especially formal or informal.

1.1 Read A and B and answer these questions.

- 1 What is a collocation?
- 2 Which of these words does fast collocate with: car, food, glance, meal?
- 3 Which of these are compounds: computer, narrow-minded, teapot, ancient monument, car park?
- 4 What do we call expressions like pass the buck and be over the moon?

1.2 Make ten collocations from the words in the box.

an effort ancient bitterly make breakfast cold dark engine forbidden mistakes have make meal monument pitch powerful strictly substantial TV watch

1.3 Are these statements about collocations true or false?

- 1 Learning collocations will make your English sound more natural.
- 2 Learning collocations will help you to express yourself in a variety of ways.
- 3 Learning collocations will help you to write better English.
- 4 Using collocations properly will get you better marks in exams.
- 5 You will not be understood unless you use collocations properly.

1.4 Put the expressions from the box into the correct category in the table below.

make a mistake a storm in a tea cup live music checkpoint key ring pull somebody's leg heavy snow valid passport teapot bitterly disappointed

compound	collocation	idiom

1.5 Underline the collocations in this text.

When I left university I made a decision to take up a profession in which I could be creative. I could play the guitar, but I'd never written any songs. Nonetheless, I decided to become a singer-songwriter. I made some recordings but I had a rather heavy cold, so they didn't sound good. I made some more, and sent them to a record company and waited for them to reply.

So, while I was waiting to become famous, I got a job in a fast-food restaurant. That was five years ago.

I'm still doing the same job.

2 Finding, recording and learning collocations

A Finding collocations

There are two main ways in which you can find collocations.

• You can train yourself to notice them whenever you read or listen to anything in English. Look at the collocations that are worth learning from this short text in English.

After giving Mark a lift to the airport, Julie made her way home. What an exciting life he led! At times Julie felt desperately jealous of him. She spent her time doing little more than taking care of him and the children. Now her sister was getting divorced and would doubtless be making demands on her too. Julie had promised to give her sister a call as soon as she got home but she decided to run herself a bath first. She had a sharp pain in her side and hoped that a hot bath might ease the pain.

Tip,

Get into the habit of making a note of any good collocations you come across in any English text you read.

• You can find them in any good learner's dictionary.

For example, if you look up the word sharp you will find some of these collocations:

- a sharp pain
- a sharp bend/turn
- a sharp contrast/difference/distinction
- a sharp rise/increase/drop

Tip

When you look up a new word, make a point of noting it down in several different collocations.

B Recording collocations

The best way to record a collocation is in a phrase or a sentence showing how it is used. Highlight the collocation by underlining it or by using a highlighting pen.

For example: I don't have access to that kind of secret information.

Or: Jim gave me a very useful piece of advice.

C Learning collocations

Learning collocations is not so different from learning any vocabulary item. The key things are to:

- regularly revise what you want to learn
- practise using what you want to learn in contexts that are meaningful for you personally
- learn collocations in groups to help you fix them in your memory. You might group together collocations relating to the same topic. Or you might group collocations based on the same word, for example:

I must find a way to help him.

Can you find your way back to my house?

I learnt the hard way that Jack can't be trusted.

Please tell me if I'm getting in your way.

You must give way to traffic from the left.

I've tried every possible way to get him to change his mind.

2.1 Underline 11 collocations in this text.

My friend Abigail is desperately worried about her son at the moment. He wants to enrol on a course of some sort but just can't make a decision about what to study. I gave Abigail a ring and we had a long chat about it last night. She said he'd like to study for a degree but is afraid he won't meet the requirements for university entry. Abigail thinks he should do a course in Management because he'd like to set up his own business in the future. I agreed that that would be a wise choice.

She's having her duty.
 She's taking a lecture.
 She's giving a party.
 She's making an exam.
 She's doing good progress.

2.3 Correct the eight collocation errors in this text. Use a dictionary to help you if necessary.

In the morning I made some work in the garden, then I spent a rest for about an hour before going out to have some shopping in town. It was my sister's birthday and I wanted to do a special effort to cook a nice meal for her. I gave a look at a new Thai cookery book in the bookshop and decided to buy it. It has some totally easy recipes and I managed to do a good impression with my very first Thai meal. I think my sister utterly enjoyed her birthday.

2.4 Look at this entry for the verb lead in the Cambridge Advanced Learner's Dictionary. What collocations could you learn from this entry? Underline or highlight them. Then write one new sentence for each of them.

• lead sb by the nose INFORMAL to control someone and make them do exactly what you want them to do

See also Unit 3, Using your dictionary.

Over to you

Use a dictionary to find three or four other good collocations for each of these words:

desperately pain wise run

Write the collocations you find in an appropriate way in your vocabulary notebook.

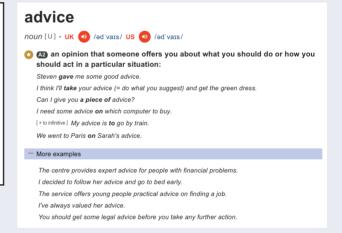

Using your dictionary

A good learner's dictionary will give you information on collocations. Sometimes the information is highlighted in some special way. In other cases, the examples used in the dictionary include the most common collocations.

In the Cambridge Advanced Learner's Dictionary (CALD), common and useful collocations are given in bold type. Look at the CALD entry for the word pain and note how useful collocations are highlighted in bold.

• a pain (in the neck) INFORMAL someone or something that is very annoying: That child is a real pain in the neck.

Online dictionaries are very useful because you can search for a lot more information very quickly. The Cambridge Dictionary (dictionary.cambridge.org) provides definitions as well as more examples including the key word and links to the SMART Thesaurus. The SMART Thesaurus gives synonyms, related words and phrases of the word you are looking up. Here is the entry for 'advice' in the Cambridge online dictionary.

A good dictionary will also tell you if a collocation is formal or informal. For example, CALD indicates that to take somebody up on an offer is an informal collocation (accept an offer would be a more formal alternative).

offer \bullet /'pf.ə^r/ \bullet /'q:.fə^r/ noun [c] when someone asks you if you would like to have something or if you would like them to do something: "If you like I can do some shopping for you." "That's a very kind offer." \circ I must say the offer of a weekend in Barcelona quite tempts me. \circ INFORMAL One day I'll take you up on (= accept) that offer.

Tip

When you buy a dictionary, make sure it gives good, clear information about collocations. When you look up words, if you don't know the collocations, highlight them in your dictionary or transfer them to your vocabulary notebook.

3.1 Answer these questions about collocations and dictionaries.

- 1 How does the Cambridge Advanced Learner's Dictionary show collocations?
- 2 Which five collocations can you see in the top box on the opposite page?
- 3 Why is an online dictionary particularly useful?
- 4 What information does the online Thesaurus usually show?
- 5 How does the Cambridge Advanced Learner's Dictionary indicate that a collocation is informal?
- 6 Look at the dictionary that you normally use. Does it indicate collocations? If so, how?
- 7 Look up pain in your own dictionary. Which of the collocations on the left-hand page does it either highlight or illustrate in example sentences?
- 8 Look up the noun offer in your own dictionary. What collocations can you find? Does the dictionary indicate whether the collocations are formal or informal? If so, how?

3.2 Put the expressions from the box into the correct category in the table below.

to alleviate pain to cause pain to complain of pain to ease pain to experience pain to feel pain to inflict pain to lessen pain to be racked with pain to relieve pain to soothe pain pain subsides to suffer pain

making others experience pain	the experience of being in pain	making pain go away

3.3 Look in a good learner's dictionary. What collocations do you find there for the word ache?

Over to you

Look up two or three words that you have recently learnt, using a good learner's dictionary. Write down any interesting collocations that are shown for those words.

4 Types of collocation

There are many different types of collocation. Here are some examples.

A Adjectives and nouns

Notice adjectives that are typically used with particular nouns.

Emma always wears red or yellow or some other bright colour.

We had a brief chat about the exams but didn't have time to discuss them properly.

Unemployment is a major problem for the government at the moment.

Improving the health service is another key issue for government.

B Nouns and verbs

Notice how nouns and verbs often go together. The examples below are all to do with economics and business.

The economy boomed in the 1990s. [the economy was very strong]

The company has grown and now employs 50 more people than last year.

The company has expanded and now has branches in most major cities.

The two companies merged in 2013 and now form one very large corporation.

The company launched the product in 2012. [introduced the product]

The price increase poses a problem for us. [is a problem]

The internet has created opportunities for our business. [brought new opportunities]

C Noun + noun

There are a lot of collocations with the pattern $a \dots of \dots$

As Max read the lies about him, he felt a surge of anger. [literary: a sudden angry feeling] Every parent feels a sense of pride when their child does well or wins something. I felt a pang of nostalgia when I saw the old photos of the village where I grew up.

Verbs and expressions with prepositions

Some verbs collocate with particular prepositional expressions.

As Jack went on stage to receive his gold medal for the judo competition you could see his parents swelling with pride. [looking extremely proud]

I was filled with horror when I read the newspaper report of the explosion.

When she spilt juice on her new skirt the little girl burst into tears. [suddenly started crying]

Verbs and adverbs

Some verbs have particular adverbs which regularly collocate with them.

She pulled steadily on the rope and helped him to safety. [pulled firmly and evenly]

He placed the beautiful vase gently on the window ledge.

'I love you and want to marry you,' Dylan whispered softly to Madison.

She smiled proudly as she looked at the photos of her new grandson.

F Adverbs and adjectives

Adjectives often have particular adverbs which regularly collocate with them.

They are happily married.

I am fully aware that there are serious problems. [I know well]

Harry was blissfully unaware that he was in danger. [Harry had no idea at all, often used about something unpleasant]

4.1 Complete each sentence with a collocation from A.

- 1 Come to my office ten minutes before the meeting so we can have ...
- 2 With her lovely dark hair Ella looks best when she wears ...
- 3 In your essay on the influence of TV, don't forget to discuss these ...
- 4 There is some crime in our town but it isn't ...

4.2 Replace the underlined words with a collocating verb from B.

- 1 We are going to introduce an exciting new product in June.
- 2 The economy was extremely high 30 years ago.
- 3 The new university they are planning will provide a lot of job opportunities.
- 4 There are always some problems when two companies join together but I think it will be worth it in the long run.
- 5 The increase in oil prices certainly creates a problem for us.
- 6 The company got bigger and has now added children's clothing to its product range.

4.3 Choose the correct feeling from the box to complete each sentence.

ange	r horror	tears	nostalgia	pride	pride
2 Gra						y think back on their schooldays. at she had dyed her beautiful black
	en Daniel saw h	-	the poor we	re treated l	by the we	althy landowners he felt a surge

Register

Often, collocations rather than individual words suggest a particular register. For example, phrases using pretty meaning fairly sound informal when used with negative adjectives (pretty awful, pretty dreadful, pretty dull), and are typical of spoken English.

Α Spoken English

Here are some more collocations which are almost exclusively found in spoken English.

1 extremely bored

You badly need a haircut!

I'll have a think about it and let you know.

Give me a ring² when you get home.

² give me a phone call

В Formal English

Some collocations are typical of formal English and are most likely to be found in an official, often legal, context, such as in notices.

[get off the bus]

[get off their bicycles]

[people who go onto someone's land or enter their building without permission will be taken to court1

Please dispose of1 unwanted items in the receptacle² provided

- ¹ throw away
- ² container used for storing or putting objects in

C Newspaper English

Some collocations – particularly ones that use short, dramatic words – are found mainly in newspapers. In most cases they would not normally be used in everyday conversation.

COMPUTER FACTORY TO AXE JOBS

AIRLINE SLASHES PRICES

Government spending will rocket this year

[make staff redundant]

[cuts prices drastically]

POLICE CRACK DOWN ON SPEEDING

POLICE QUIZ 16-YEAR-OLD IN MURDER ENQUIRY

[ask questions]

[start dealing with it in a more severe way]

FLU OUTBREAK HITS SOUTHERN EUROPE

D Business English

Some collocations are characteristic of business English.

to submit a tender [present a document offering to do a job and stating the price]

to raise capital [get money to put into a business] to go into partnership with someone [agree to start or run a business with someone] to start up a business

- 5.1 Underline formal (F) or informal (I) collocations in these sentences (one per sentence) and put F or I in the brackets at the end.
 - 1 Cyclists should dismount before crossing the footbridge. ()
 - 2 Never dispose of batteries and similar items by throwing them onto a fire. ()
 - 3 The students were all bored stiff by the lecture. ()
 - 4 Passengers must alight from the bus through the rear door. ()
 - 5 The grass badly needs cutting. ()
 - 6 Please place all used tickets in the receptacle provided as you leave the building. ()
- 5.2 Underline typical news/media collocations in these newspaper clips.

OIL COMPANIES SLASH PRICES

There was good news for motorists today as pump prices were lowered by the major oil companies.

DETECTIVES QUIZ BUSINESSMAN OVER MISSING TEENAGER

Senior detectives interviewed a man who has been named as prime suspect in the case of a missing 18-year-old who is feared to have been abducted.

FLOODS HIT CENTRAL REGION

Towns and villages in the Central region were battling against floods tonight as heavy rain continued.

CAR FIRM TO AXE 200 JOBS

The Presco car firm has announced that 200 workers will be made redundant at its Kenton factory. The job losses are the result of falling profits.

- 5.3 Rewrite the headlines in exercise 5.2 using collocations more typical of ordinary conversation, as if you were telling a friend the news. Start each answer with 'Have you heard ...?' Use a dictionary if necessary.
- 5.4 Match the beginning of each sentence on the left with its ending on the right to make typical collocations used in business English.

1 We raised partnership to develop a new range of products.

2 They submitted capital to expand the business.

3 They went into a business to supply sports equipment to schools.

4 We started up a tender for the new stadium.

- 5.5 Choose a formal or informal collocation as instructed at the end of each sentence. Use a dictionary if necessary.
 - 1 She was dead / extremely keen to meet the new coach. (informal)
 - 2 We will be boarding the aircraft / getting on the plane in about ten minutes. (formal)
 - 3 Mr Trotter paid for / bore the cost of the repairs. (formal)
 - 4 | withdrew from | dropped out of my university course after a year. (informal)
 - 5 The marketing manager launched into / embarked upon a detailed explanation of her new strategy. (informal)

6 Intensifying adverbs

In English there are lots of other ways of saying very or very much. For example, we can use words such as highly, utterly, bitterly, deeply. These alternatives collocate strongly with specific words, and other combinations often sound unnatural.

A Highly

В

collocations	comments
(un)likely unusual successful competitive profitable effective controversial recommended	Highly is used with some probability words (likely, unusual). With the exception of highly controversial it usually combines with very positive words. Extremely can also be used with all the opposite adjectives except recommended.

It is highly unlikely that I'll finish my work on time. Julia's highly unusual behaviour began to worry her parents.

Absolutely, utterly

collocations	comments
ridiculous stupid impossible wrong alone appalled convinced devastated miserable	Absolutely and (slightly more formal) utterly combine with adjectives with very extreme meanings where we can't use very. For example, we say absolutely/utterly exhausted, not very exhausted, whereas we say very tired, but not absolutely or utterly tired. Often, but not always, these words have negative connotations.

It was an absolutely stupid comment to make.

The whole area was utterly devastated after the earthquake.

Bitterly, deeply, ridiculously, strongly

word	collocations	comments
bitterly	disappointing/disappointed resent criticise regret complain cry weep	carries a feeling of deep sadness; used slightly more in writing than in conversation
deeply	ashamed concerned shocked committed moved affected hurt (of feelings) regret care religious unhappy	collocates mainly with words associated with feelings; used slightly more in writing than in conversation
ridiculously	cheap expensive easy low high long short small large early	suggests something extreme, which seems unbelievable or unreasonable strongly	oppose influence believe deny recommend support condemn suggest feel argue object	collocates with verbs, particularly verbs that relate to having an opinion

I was bitterly disappointed when I failed the exam.

Professor McDellvit was always deeply committed to her students.

The restaurant was ridiculously expensive. I don't think we'll go there again.

I would strongly recommend that you learn a foreign language.

6.1 Choose an adverb from the box to replace very in each of these expressions.

	utterly	strongly	bitterly	ridiculously	highly	deeply
1	very as	hamed	6	very disappoint	ing
2	very ch	eap	7	very opposed
3 very controversial		8	very ridiculous
4	very sti	upid	9	very easy
5 very successful		10	very concerned

6.2 Use a collocation from exercise 6.1 to complete each of these sentences.

1 The flight from London to Rome was

1	The flight from London to Rome was
	Some people love her new book, others are very angry a
3	His father was a peace campaigner all his life and was	to war.

9	She has always been	about the environment and would like to work for a conservation agency.
10	That you should even think that I would steal money from! You must be crazy!	m you is 6.3 In each of these sets of phrases, one is not a correct collocation. Cross out the incorrect one.

- 1 strongly recommend strongly influence strongly love strongly dislike
- 2 highly educated highly profitable highly unusual highly exhausted
- 3 bitterly regard bitterly regret bitterly resent bitterly criticise
- 4 absolutely convinced absolutely tired absolutely devastated absolutely absurd
- 5 deeply unhappy deeply religious deeply successful deeply committed

6.4 In this short text, the writer has often misused the word strongly. Correct the wrong collocations using adverbs from the box. Use each adverb once only.

COMMUNITY NEWS

Everyone was complaining strongly when they heard about the new plan. People were strongly shocked to hear that children would be strongly forbidden to use the sports ground and most people were strongly opposed to the new rules. Even people who normally never expressed an opinion were strongly appalled by the proposals.

Everyday verbs 1

This unit deals with make and do, two verbs that many learners have problems with. If you remember that the basic meaning of make is about producing something and the basic meaning of do is about performing an action, then the collocations on this page may seem more logical.

collocation	example
make arrangements for	The school can make arrangements for pupils with special needs.
make a change / changes	The new manager is planning to make some changes .
make a choice	Amelia had to make a choice between her career and her family.
make a comment / comments	Would anyone like to make any comments on the talk?
make a contribution to	She made a useful contribution to the discussion.
make a decision	I'm glad it's you who has to make the decision , not me.
make an effort	Michael is really making an effort with his maths this term.
make an excuse	I'm too tired to go out tonight. Let's make an excuse and stay at home.
make friends	Caroline is very good at making friends .
make an improvement	Repainting the room has really made an improvement .
make a mistake	They've made a mistake in our bill.
make a phone call	I've got to make some phone calls before dinner.
make progress	Holly is making progress with all her schoolwork.

Do

collocation	example
do your best	All that matters in the exam is to do your best .
do damage	The storm did some damage to our roof.
do an experiment	We are doing an experiment to test how the metal reacts with water.
do exercises	We'll do some exercises practising these collocations tomorrow.
do someone a good turn / do someone a favour	Could you do me a favour and pick me up some milk from the supermarket? Jess did me a good turn by lending me her car while mine was in the garage.
do harm	Changing the rules may do more harm than good.
do your hair	No, I'm not ready. I haven't done my hair yet.
do your homework	My son has to do his homework straight after school.
do the ironing/shopping/ washing, etc.	I'll do the washing if you do the ironing.
do some work	We'll do some work on our project and then we'll go to the cinema.

Tip

Notice all the patterns that you can see in these tables. For example, make a comment, make an excuse and make a contribution to a discussion are all connected with saying things. Noticing connections like this may help you to remember the correct collocation.

7.1 Use a collocation with make and a noun instead of the underlined words in each of these conversations.

1 Naomi: The bill says we've had three desserts. We only had two.

Stella: The waiter must have been mistaken.

2 Avery: It's so difficult. Should I take the job or not?

Owen: I know it's difficult. But you have to decide one way or the other.

3 Grace: Can you and Ethan come to dinner on Saturday?

Lily: Yes, we'll have to arrange to get a babysitter, but it should be OK.

4 Zoe: Did you hear about the air traffic controllers' strike in the USA?

Aaron: Yes. We had to change our travel itinerary because of it.

5 Luke: Can I have chips and rice with my lunch?

Clare: No, you have to choose, chips or rice, but not both.

6 Gavin: Do you intend to speak at the meeting? Victoria: Yes, I hope I can contribute to the debate.

7.2 Choose the correct collocation, do or make.

- 1 Did the fire do / make much damage to the factory?
- 2 I hate doing / making my homework at the last minute.
- 3 You must do / make an effort to work harder.
- 4 Did you do / make any work at the weekend?
- 5 We are trying to do / make improvements to the system for registering.
- 6 Do you think it would do / make any harm if I cut some leaves off this plant?

7.3 You are designing a questionnaire for your school website. Complete each question with do or make.

Get is a very common verb in English, but it is not always appropriate for talking about changes. Note also alternatives to get which can improve your style.

A Go, not get

Go is used for changes in people's personality, appearance and physical abilities:

People go mad/bald/grey/blind/deaf.

Go is often used for sudden, usually negative, changes:

He was very embarrassed and his face went red.

Suddenly the sky went very dark and it started to rain.

Go can also be used for slower colour changes:

The pages of the book had gone yellow over the years.

B Turn, not get

Turn often collocates with colours:

The sky turned gold as the sun set.

When the tomatoes turn red, the farmers pick them and sell them.

The news gave his mother such a shock that her hair turned white overnight.

Get and become

Get and become can often be used with the same collocations, but become is more formal and is therefore more appropriate in essays:

She gave up smoking when she became pregnant.

I would like to become involved in raising money for charity.

The same is true for collocations with adjectives such as angry, bored, excited, depressed, upset, impatient, violent:

He became depressed after his wife's death.

Become, not get, is used with the following: extinct, (un)popular, homeless, famous.

Our local baker's has become famous for its apple tarts.

Alternatives to get and become

She fell ill and was taken to hospital.

Everyone fell silent when they heard the shocking news.

As my father grew older, he spent less time working.

The noise grew louder and soon we realised it was a plane approaching.

E Overusing and misusing get

Here are some sentences from students' essays where get is wrongly used.

sentences with get	more appropriate alternatives
I was able to get new friends.	I was able to make new friends .
A year ago he got a heart attack.	A year ago he had/suffered a heart attack.
If I get a child of my own one day	If I have a child of my own one day
I was getting crazy.	I was going crazy .
In June, I got a baby, James.	In June, I had a baby , James.

8.1 Answer these questions using collocations from A and B.

- 1 What can happen to men as they get older? (Clue: Think of their hair.)
- 2 What can happen if you are embarrassed? (Clue: Think of your face.)
- 3 What can happen if you get bad news? (Clue: Think of your face or hair.)

- 8 My grandfather got a heart attack last winter.

8.3 Replace each use of get with a verb from the box.

fall	become	grow	have	make
Iall	become	grow	Have	make

As you get older, you'll begin to understand your parents better. Getting angry with them all the time doesn't help. You may not want to go to summer camp when none of your friends will be there, but your parents know you will soon get new friends there. You would all have gone on a family holiday together if your grandmother hadn't got ill, but surely you can understand why they don't want to leave her. You'll feel much more sympathetic to your parents' feelings when you get a child of your own!

have a party	Let's have a party at the end of term.
have a problem / problems	Ask the teacher if you have problems with the exercise.
have a try/go	I'll explain what to do and then you can have a go/try .

Take

В

Hi, Jean,

We're so glad we decided to take a holiday here. Yesterday we took a trip to the mountains. First we took a train to a little town and then we took a bus going to various villages and got off when we saw one that we took a liking to. Of course, we were taking a risk as we didn't know exactly what we'd find there. But we were lucky. Some kids took an interest in us and showed us some great places. We took a lot of photos.

Have you done anything yet about your job? I'd take a chance and leave if I were you. No point in staying somewhere where the boss has taken a dislike to you! Take advantage of being in London – there are always plenty of jobs there. You'll soon find something else, so take action, that's my advice! Good luck!

Ellen

C Pay

collocation	example
pay attention	You must pay attention to the teacher.
pay a compliment	I was trying to pay her a compliment but she misunderstood.
pay your (last) respects	At a funeral people pay their last respects to the person who has died.
pay tribute [formal]	When Jack retired, his boss made a speech paying tribute to all he had done for the company.

Tip

There are other common verbs in English which have strong and possibly surprising collocations. Notice any that you find with, for example, break, fall, run and take.

9.1 Complete the questions using collocations from A opposite.

1	You want a friend to look at a letter you have written before you send it. YOU: Could you	?

11.2 Look at the picture and answer the questions.

- 1 What is the woman wearing?
- 2 What is the woman carrying?
- 3 What is the woman using?
- 4 What is the man wearing?
- 5 What is the man using?
- 6 What is the man carrying?

11.3 Correct the nine collocation errors in this paragraph.

Last year I got a new job and started gaining a lot more money. I realised I could afford to use more money on my holiday than I usually do and decided to pass a month in Australia. I knew it would be hot there and so I wouldn't need to carry warm clothes with me. In fact, I used a t-shirt and jeans all the time I was there. I carried a hat all the time too, of course, to protect me from the sun. It was fantastic there. I passed a week sightseeing in Sydney and then stayed the rest of the time travelling round the country. I even did my lifelong ambition of stroking a koala.

11.4 Change the underlined words so that each sentence has the opposite meaning.

- 1 The Democratic Party lost the election.
- 2 The ruling power has lost control of the situation.
- 3 Our team was defeated in the match.
- 4 I spent a lot of money last month.
- 5 Our company made a loss last year.

11.5 Complete these questions. Then answer them.

Metaphor

If someone uses a metaphor, they use a word in a way that is slightly different from its basic meaning. For example, the first meaning of sunny is connected with the weather, so we talk about a sunny day. However, sunny can also be used in expressions like a sunny smile, the children's sunny faces to mean happy; in these collocations sunny is used in a metaphorical way. Metaphors are more common in written than spoken English and often have the effect of sounding quite poetic.

Light in English is associated with happiness. So a face shines with pleasure and eyes shine with excitement or delight. If someone's face lights up or their eyes light up, they show that they suddenly feel happy. If an atmosphere lightens or a mood lightens, it becomes more relaxed or cheerful than it was.

Darkness is associated with unhappiness and negative feelings. Dark thoughts are gloomy or sinister ones and dark days or dark times are unpleasant times to live through. If someone's face darkens or their eyes darken or someone's expression darkens, then we know that that person is unhappy, often because they are feeling angry.

В

Water

collocation	example	comment
ideas flow, conversation flows	It was a very successful meeting. The ideas flowed .	Flow suggests that things progress easily, without effort.
a flood / floods of tears, tears streaming down someone's face	The little girl was in floods of tears. Tears were streaming down her face.	Both of these metaphors about tears suggest the girl is crying a lot.
people pour/stream somewhere	People poured out of the hall at the end of the lecture.	Pour and stream suggest lots of people moving smoothly.
people trickle	People trickled into the concert hall.	Trickle suggests a few people moving slowly.
a stream of visitors/traffic	There was a stream of traffic outside our room all night.	Stream suggests continuous movement.

Fire and heat

Words associated with fire and heat often suggest anger in English. A heated debate, a heated discussion or a heated conversation is one in which people disagree in an angry way with each other. If you say that someone has a fiery temper, you mean that they often get suddenly angry. The word flare means show a bright light in the dark. If you say tempers flared, you mean that people became angry with each other. Similarly violence flares up and troubles flare up. These all mean that problems which existed in the past suddenly become serious again.

However, not all metaphors relating to fire suggest anger. If you feel very embarrassed, your cheeks burn with embarrassment. A blaze is a very bright fire. We talk about a blaze of glory or a blaze of publicity meaning there is a lot of it and it is spectacular.

Tip

When you are reading English, try to notice metaphorical uses of language. This will help you to see how familiar words can be used in extra, interesting ways.

Travel, journey, trip

Look at these emails and note the different collocations for travel, journey and trip.

² said to someone who is about to make a journey overnight journey from the capital to get there, so maybe we should look nearer home?

В Flights

These collocations are all rather formal ones connected with flying:

Palair offers excellent in-flight entertainment, with the latest films and music.

The in-flight magazine includes maps and information about major airports.

[announcement by a cabin attendant] Ladies and gentlemen, we'll shortly be landing at Dublin Airport. Please fasten your seatbelts.

Lorna

The passenger boarded the plane on time, but it was delayed taking off and she missed her connecting flight in Amsterdam.

Domestic flights are often more expensive than international ones. [flights within a country] Do you normally prefer a window seat or an aisle seat when you fly?

We managed to get a charter¹ flight; it was half the price of the scheduled² flight.

The weather en route is fine, and we anticipate a smooth flight³ to Stockholm today.

Accommodation

We stayed in a small, family-run hotel.

The Panorama is a rather run-down hotel in a back street near the city centre.

The Palace is a luxury hotel on the main square of Porto Alegre.

I can't afford to stay in smart hotels. I always have to look for budget accommodation. [very cheap] I'd advise you to make a reservation before you go. The hotels near the beach are very popular and get fully booked during the summer.

² regular flight organised by the company which owns the plane

³ The opposite is a bumpy flight.

14.1	Complete each sentence with trip, travel or journey.
	1 I'll get some brochures today and we can start planning our holiday. 2 Tom is away on a business all week. 3 It's a rather difficult overnight to the mountains but it's well worth it. 4 I prefer to arrange my holidays myself rather than use a agent. 5 On Saturday we went on a day to an interesting old castle. 6 Was it a tiring from Seoul to Los Angeles? 7 On summer weekends we often used to go on camping 8 Do you use a special firm to arrange business for your staff? 9 Do you make your own arrangements or does your secretary do it all? 10 I hope your flight is on time tomorrow. Safe! See you at the airport.
14.2	Complete these sentences.
	 We couldn't a reservation; all the hotels were booked. As I've got long legs, I usually ask for an seat on a long flight, but on the flight to New York I had a seat and I got a great view of Manhattan as we came in, even though I didn't have much leg-room. We're only scheduled to have about half an hour in Dubai, so I hope we don't miss our flight. They seem to have much better in-flight on that airline; they have the latest film and you can play video games. Passengers must their seatbelts before take-off and landing. Passengers with seats in rows 1 to 25 are now invited to the plane. The Principality Hotel was ratherdown and we were very disappointed. You can spend a lot of money and stay in a hotel or you can look for budget
14.3	Answer these questions about travel collocations.

Over to you

Next time you fly, look at the signs at the airports you pass through, which are often in English as well as the local language(s). Find and make a note of three useful collocations.

A Writing about the landscape

From my room I look out over the surrounding countryside. It's very different from the familiar landscape I see from the windows at home. At home it's a gentle landscape¹ with open fields². Here it's a bleak landscape with rocky mountains in the distance.

Yesterday we followed a path down to the lake. As we turned a corner, we caught a glimpse of³ a kingfisher standing in the water. John tried to take a picture⁴ of it but it caught sight of us and flew off. A little further on we rounded a bend⁵ and St John's Abbey came into view. The Abbey fell into ruin⁶ about three hundred years ago. Although it lies in ruins, it is well worth seeing as it stands in a dramatic setting on a steep slope beside a fast-flowing river with mountains towering⁷ above it.

⁵ turned a corner

⁷ mountains rising dramatically

⁶ became a ruin

The cottage is in some wonderful unspoilt countryside⁸ on the edge of a dense forest⁹. Unfortunately the trees block the view of the snow-covered mountains. It has a little garden with a stream at the end of it. The stream winds¹⁰ through the forest. They wanted to build a timber factory here but the local people said that it would destroy the countryside and, fortunately, their campaign to protect the environment succeeded.

The language of tourism

collocation	example
uninterrupted view	From most rooms there are uninterrupted views of the castle. [nothing blocks the views of the castle]
panoramic view	From the top floor restaurant diners have a panoramic view of the countryside. [view over a very wide area]
spectacular view	From the balcony there is a spectacular view of the mountains. [very dramatic view]
enjoy/admire a view	We stopped for a few minutes to admire the view .
breathtaking scenery	The area has some breathtaking scenery – mountains, cliffs, lakes. [extremely striking and beautiful views]
dominate the landscape	The castle dominates the landscape for miles around. [can be seen from a long way away]
beach stretches	A beautiful beach stretches for miles along the coast.
sandy beach	The hotel has its own sandy beach .
secluded beach	You'll love the secluded beaches . [without many people] golden sands	You can wander for miles along the golden sands .
peaceful/tranquil countryside	You can quickly go from the hustle and bustle of the town to the tranquil countryside . [formal]

² fields uninterrupted by woods or houses

⁸ countryside that has not been changed by industry or modern buildings

⁹ thick forest ¹⁰ makes lots of bends, doesn't flow in a straight line

15.1 Look at A. Complete the collocations to fit these pictures.

1	Near the lake there is an old house that	ruin about a hundred years ago. It stands in a lovely landscape, surrounded by .	fields.

- 2 We a footpath along the river for about three kilometres. In the distance there were snow-..... mountains.
- 3 We walked through aforest; it was very dark among the trees.

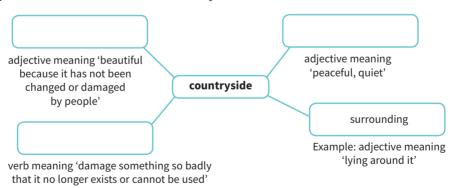

15.2 Correct the underlined collocation errors in this paragraph.

A chain of snowy mountains runs down the east of the country. The Wassa River, the country's biggest, dances slowly from the northern mountains to the sea. Even in summer it is a sour landscape, with its dark, stony mountains and its cold streams. But for me it is the family landscape of my childhood and I am happy that the government has decided to guard this environment. It is a dramatic set which is a lot worth visiting for anyone who likes spectacle views.

15.3 Choose the correct collocation.

- 1 We made / took / put a lot of photographs because it was such a beautiful day.
- 2 As I returned / turned the corner I made / cauaht / took a glimpse of the house through the trees.
- 3 A long sanded / sandy beach reached / ran / stretched for miles in front of us.
- 4 Unfortunately, the new hotel blocks / jams / stops the view of the castle.

15.4 Complete this collocation web for countryside.

15.5 Replace the words in brackets in each sentence with one word which collocates with the underlined word.

- 1 It's a beautiful town and the countryside (which is all around it) is even more beautiful.
- 2 The tower (is the most important and visible thing on) the landscape. From the top of the tower, you get a view (which allows you to see a very wide stretch) of the surrounding area.
- 3 There are lovely beaches (with very few people on them).
- 4 We travelled through some scenery (which was extremely exciting and beautiful).
- 5 From the windows of our villa we had views (which were continuous, without any obstacles,) of the lakes and mountains.

A Describing towns and cities for visitors

Look at these extracts from a magazine article about tourist cities.

The city skyline is a wonderful mix of old and new, and the city itself has a lot of busy, narrow cobbled¹ streets. The old town is a conservation area and it has a lot of quaint² old buildings dating back to the city's foundation in the 1500s.

¹ made of a regular pattern of stones ² attractive because of being unusual and especially old-fashioned Doradella Street has a lot of upmarket³ shops and rather pricey⁴, sometimes overpriced, restaurants, but not far away is the Genasia district, where you'll find restaurants which offer good value and a more relaxed atmosphere.

³ for people with expensive tastes ⁴ expensive, in a negative sense

В

Royal Avenue runs from north to south, and is lined with shops. Behind it, the streets are full of lively bars and fashionable clubs. The pavement cafés and shops of Luna Square are pleasant but very expensive.

As you drive into the city, the tree-lined avenues of the residential areas are soon replaced by the high-rise flats of the inner city⁵. Then come the imposing buildings of the Parliament and government departments.

⁵ central part of a city where poorer people live and where there are often social problems

Towns and cities and their problems

Here are some descriptions of the more negative aspects of towns and cities.

Some of the inner-city areas are an urban wasteland¹ and are somewhat dangerous for visitors. In fact some streets have become no-go² areas, with high crime. Many streets are strewn with litter and there are numerous run-down³ buildings. There are some deprived⁴ areas round the city centre with huge social problems. The industrial zones which lie on the edge of the city are grey and polluted.

- ¹ a city area which is empty and in a bad condition
- ² where the police and other authorities are afraid to enter
- ³ in very bad condition
- ⁴ not having the things that are necessary for a pleasant life, e.g. enough money, good living conditions

Triope is a sprawling⁵ city with bumper-to-bumper⁶ traffic all day long. The exhaust fumes can be a nightmare. The volume of traffic has increased in recent years and the incessant roar⁷ of trucks and buses makes the city centre an extremely noisy place. The comfortable suburbs⁸ away from the city centre contrast sharply with the poor shanty towns⁹ one sees on the way to the airport.

⁵ spread over a large area (slightly negative)

⁶ so many cars and so close that they are almost touching each other

⁷ very loud noise which never stops

⁸ a place from which many people travel in order to work in a bigger town or city

⁹ very poor houses made of discarded materials (e.g. tin, cardboard, plastic, etc.)

16.1 Which of the collocations in A opposite do these photos illustrate?

Which of the collocations in the box have a positive meaning (+) and which have a negative meaning (-)?

16.3 Answer these questions using collocations from the opposite page.

- 1 What might prevent you from sleeping in a house near a busy motorway?
- 2 Exhaust fumes will get worse if what increases?
- 3 What is the opposite of a restaurant which is good value?
- 4 What kind of area with poor, home-made houses could certainly be called a deprived area?
- 5 If an area is very interesting historically, what may it officially be called?
- 6 What is another way of saying an expensive restaurant?
- 7 What do we call blocks of flats which have many storeys, perhaps 20 or more?
- 8 What adjective could be used about an attractive and perhaps slightly unusual old building?

16.4 Match the beginning of each sentence on the left with its ending on the right.

- 1 It is a sprawling
- 2 It is full of upmarket
- 3 There was bumper-to-bumper
- 4 I get asthma from the terrible exhaust
- 5 I live in a residential

People: physical appearance

Words describing people's physical appearance

Read these quotations taken from essays where students were asked to describe their family members.

My father has a round face and a droopy¹ moustache. My mother has a more pointed face and a straight nose. My younger sister is more like my father. She has an oval² face and an upturned nose. My older sister is like a model. She has a slim figure and a slender³ waist. She has a lovely complexion⁴ and beautiful sleek⁵, shoulder-length hair, and she's always immaculately groomed⁶. I feel so ordinary next to her – I've got coarse⁷ hair and rather broad hips, but she always says I look nice.

My father and my two older brothers are all well-built⁸ with broad shoulders. My father is going bald but he still has a very youthful appearance for someone who is over forty. My brothers both have thick hair and bushy⁹ eyebrows. My younger brother is only two, but he's very cute, with chubby cheeks¹⁰. My mother's side of the family mostly have dark hair – in fact my mother had jet-black hair¹¹ when she was younger, before she went grey – but on my father's side, some have fair hair and some have ginger¹² hair.

B More collocations describing appearance

A short, dumpy woman was selling flowers at a stall on the street corner. [short and quite fat woman; used more often of women than of men. This collocation is slightly negative, so be careful how you use it.]

A portly gentleman answered the door. [fat and round; usually used of middle-aged and older men]

A lanky youth was standing at the street corner. [tall and thin and tending to move awkwardly]

I wouldn't like people to see me with dishevelled hair and dirty clothes. [very untidy; used of people's hair and appearance]

He bears a striking resemblance to his father. [looks remarkably like]

The lady who entered the room had a very striking appearance. [unusual appearance, in a positive, attractive sense]

Tip

Sometimes words are very restricted in what they can collocate with. The colour adjectives blonde, ginger and *auburn*¹ are only used of people's hair (not, for example, their clothes or other objects). When a word has restricted collocations, make a special note in your vocabulary notebook.

¹reddish brown

¹ long and hanging down heavily

² shaped like an egg

³ attractively slim (a rather formal, poetic word)

Family relationships

Sociologists talk about nuclear and extended families. A nuclear family is just parents and children. An extended family is a wider network including grandparents, cousins, etc.

Close relatives are those like parents, children, brothers or sisters. Distant relatives are people like second cousins [the children of a cousin of your mother or father] or distant cousins.

Close/immediate family refers to people who are your nearest blood relatives:

I don't have much close/immediate family.

She's a distant cousin of mine; she's not a blood relative.

Close can also be used to mean that the relationship is a very strong one:

We are a very close family. or We are a very close-knit family.

These adjectives also collocate with family:

loving, respectable, dysfunctional [unhappy, not working in a healthy way]

Henry came from a respectable family, so Ella's parents felt happy about the marriage.

Someone's late husband/wife is one who has died.

An estranged [formal] husband/wife is one who lives in a different place and has a difficult relationship with their husband/wife. They may be having a trial separation and may eventually decide to get a divorce. In some cases it can be a bitter/acrimonious divorce. [full of anger, arguments and bad feeling]

A person's ex-husband/ex-wife is a man/woman that she/he used to be married to.

Children whose parents have separated or divorced are said to come from a broken home. If their family is a strong, loving one it can be called a stable home. If it is a poor one, not having the things that are necessary for a pleasant life, such as enough money, food or good living conditions, it can be called a deprived home.

A confirmed bachelor is a man who seems to have no intention of ever marrying.

Describing your house/flat/room

Hi Mila,
Luke and I have just moved into our dream home.
It's a big old four-storey house. It's got a spacious living room which has a wonderful view of the park, and a cosy study where we can both work.
And there are some lovely light, airy bedrooms which overlook the garden.
There is a separate basement flat, which we might turn into a granny flat for my mother. And if we want to add an extension¹ there's room for that too. It needs to be completely refurbished, but Luke and I have always wanted to do up² an old house.

Hi Julia,
You're so lucky! I'd love to move out of my awful one-room flat. It's in such a dilapidated building. You go into a draughty hall, down a chilly corridor and into this really cramped room. I want to buy a place of my own but there's a shortage of affordable housing here and I don't want to take out a big mortgage. I'd love to see your house. I hope you'll invite me to your house-warming party.

Big hug,
Mila

- 6 Let me take you out to dinner on your birthday. Or would you prefer a meal prepared at home? I could make dinner for you at my place.

A Talking about films and books

When a new book or film comes out, newspapers and websites, like BookLikes and IMDb, will review it. The people who review the book/film are called book reviewers / film critics and they write book/film reviews. If they don't like a book/film they give it a bad review. We can say that a novel or film is based on a true story. We say that a book/film captures an atmosphere or that a book/film deals with a topic. We talk about the opening/closing scenes of a film and the opening/closing chapters of a book. We talk about the beginning and end of a book/film (NOT start and finish). If everything works out well for the central characters, we say that the book/film has a happy ending. You may recommend a book/film that you enjoyed to a friend. If a lot of people have enjoyed it, it is highly recommended.

B Just about films and acting

I've never had any desire to go on the stage¹ myself but I'd love to produce a film. I think historical dramas work particularly well on the big screen² and I'd love to make a film about Vikings in Britain. There'd be plenty of opportunities to use special effects³ during battle scenes. I'd want the male lead⁴ to be played by Hugh Jackman, while Jennifer Lawrence could have the female lead. Liam Neeson could play the role of a Viking warrior and I'd like Judi Dench to take on a cameo role⁵. I'm sure that, as always, she would give an excellent performance. My dream is to make a film that would be nominated for an Oscar⁶. Of course, I'd also like it to be an immediate box-office hit⁷, playing to full houses⁸ worldwide.

- ¹ become an actor
- ² the cinema

- ³ powerful visual effects, often created using technology
- ⁴ main male part

- ⁵ small but special part
- ⁶ put on the official list of people in the film world who may receive a special prize (an Oscar)

- ⁸ cinemas/theatres with no empty seats

Other strong collocations are cast a film [select the actors for a film], star in a film, shoot a film, make a film.

Just about books, audiobooks and e-books

collocation	example
be engrossed/absorbed in a book	Claudia was so engrossed/absorbed in her book that she didn't hear me.
compulsive reading	Many people find articles about the private lives of film stars compulsive reading. [so interesting you can't stop reading]
bedtime reading	I don't think a horror story makes good bedtime reading .
an easy read	Detective stories are good for train journeys as they're an easy read .
download an audiobook / an e-book reader app	You can look up the latest book releases and download an audiobook from the iTunes store. I've just helped my mother download an e-book reader app on her tablet.
flick/skim through a book	Mona flicked/skimmed through the book without reading it in detail.
beautifully written	The book is beautifully written – I highly recommend it.

Common mistakes

Critics review books and films, NOT criticise them. To criticise a book or film means to say negative things about it.

Remember that you watch television, NOT see television, but you can see or watch a film or programme on television. We usually say see a film at the cinema.

Use collocations from A opposite instead of the underlined words in this conversation. The conversation has no errors, but the changes will improve it.

Matthew: Have you downloaded that new e-book that has just appeared about Ireland? Camilla: No, I don't use my e-book reader app much and I don't visit websites with articles discussing new books. What's it about?

Matthew: Well, it concerns the Irish War of Independence. It's very authentic and it manages to give the atmosphere of Ireland at the beginning of the 20th century.

Camilla: Is it just historical facts, then?

Matthew: No, the main people are two brothers who have different opinions about the war and this divides their family. In the first chapters they're happy and do everything together, but by the last chapter they have become enemies.

Camilla: Mm, it sounds a bit depressing to me.

Matthew: Well, it certainly doesn't finish in a happy way, but I liked it, and it's recommended very much by all the critics.

Camilla: So, a book with a pleasant start and a sad finish. Not for me, I'm afraid.

I prefer the opposite.

24.2 Correct the eight collocation errors in this paragraph. The first one is done for you.

For all folk music likers, Johnny Coppin's new album, The Long Harvest, published last week, will be a great addition to their collection. Johny recently got solo after five years with the folk band Blue Mountain. He is proud of the musical inheritance of his native Kentucky. Tracks 3 and 7 comprise his old friend Wiz Carter on guitar. With this album Coppin says he hopes to control a wider audience for folk music. His excellent living performance at the recent Lockwood Folk Festival suggests he has a good chance of succeeding. He makes a tour next month. Don't miss him.

A Do, play and go

The table below gives examples of common sporting collocations with do, play and go.

You do	gymnastics, judo, weightlifting, aerobics, yoga, wrestling, circuit training, archery, athletics
You play games, badminton, billiards, hockey, bowls, rugby, golf, (table) tennis, cricket, baseba darts, cards, dominoes
You go fishing, skiing, bowling, cycling, skateboarding, surfing, snowboarding, hang-gliding, hill walking, sailing, jogging, swimming

You can also say you go to aerobics/judo/yoga/karate – this means that you go to a class in this sport.

Common mistakes

Learners often make mistakes with some common collocations connected with sport. Make a point of learning these commonly used collocations.

- You do or play sport. (NOT make sport)
- You do exercises. (NOT make exercises)
- You play computer or other games. (NOT do games)
- You have/play a game of cards. (NOT make a game)
- You go skiing. (NOT make skiing)
- You do activities. (NOT make or practise activities)

If you are a serious sportsperson, you will certainly practise your sport, but that has a specific meaning, which is to do something again and again in order to get better at it, in other words to train. If you are a footballer you might practise taking a penalty, for example.

B Winning and losing

Sportsmen and sportswomen want to win matches, not lose matches. But you can't win all the time! Sometimes a team or player deserves to win, but gets narrowly defeated/beaten.

Before they go in for / enter a competition, athletes train hard. They probably attend/do at least five training sessions a week. They are likely to put up a fight to gain/get a place in the next stage/round of the competition. Of course, a sportsperson's ultimate aim is to break the world record in their sport. If they succeed, they set a new world record and become a world record holder. They are sure to come up against fierce/intense competition as they try to achieve their ambitions. Sometimes they are satisfied if they just achieve a personal best.

Some sports people so desperately want to win that they take drugs to enhance their performance. This will be discovered when they fail a drugs test.

Football

You can play or have a (football) match / game (of football). It might be a home or an away match depending on whether you're playing on your team's home ground or not.

The aim is to score a goal. Players may tackle an opponent to try to take possession of the ball¹. If you tackle in an illegal way, you foul your opponent. This will lead to the referee blowing his whistle and an opponent taking a penalty or taking a free kick. If someone isn't playing very well the manager may decide to drop the player from the team or bring on a substitute². Both teams hope that they will have taken the lead³ by half-time.

Do you fancy coming on a sporting weekend with me next month? It sounds great — would make a change from playing computer games. You can make lots of different activities. You could even do fishing, I think. You can't go skiing at this time of year but you can make water skiing, if you like. Everyone has to make general exercises first thing in the morning and then you can make whatever sport you like, more or less. I've never practised badminton so I think I'm going to do that. Then in the afternoon I'm looking forward to the chance to practise my tennis serve with their professional coach. Please try to come!

get a grade	Her essay received / was given an A-grade.
get a qualification	You will need to obtain/acquire a qualification in social work.
get an education	The country is poor; only 27% of children receive a basic education .

Common mistakes

Don't confuse pass an exam with sit/take an exam. Pass means to be successful in an exam or test. Say 'I did my homework', NOT 'I made my homework.'

Look at these conversations between a teacher and students. Note how the teacher uses more formal collocations to repeat what each student says.

Student: Do we have to go to all the lectures to do the course or just yours?

Teacher: You must attend all the lectures to complete the course.

Student: Excuse me. Where will next week's class be? In this room?

Teacher: No. Next week's class will be held in Room 405.

Student: When do we have to give you our essays?

Student: When do we have to send in our university applications?

Teacher: You have to submit your application by December 1st.

Student: What do I have to do if I want to leave the course?

Teacher: If you want to withdraw from the course, you have to go to the College Office.

Do you keep a vocabulary notebook? It's a good way of recording new collocations.

I did the first draft of my essay last week and the final draft this week. I have to hand it in tomorrow. Then the teacher gives us feedback after about a week.

We don't have exams at my school. We have continuous assessment. [system where the quality of a student's work is judged by pieces of course work and not by one final examination]

The local technical college provides training for young people in a variety of professions.

After secondary school, 30% of the population go on to higher/tertiary education, and 20% of adults do some sort of further education course during their lives.

Does your government recognise foreign qualifications for school teachers?

28.1 Replace all the uses of do or get in this paragraph with more interesting words.

I have three daughters. The oldest one did a degree in Economics. She got her bachelor's degree last year and is now doing some research on taxation laws in different countries. The second one is doing a course at Newcastle University. She's doing History. She loves it, though she says she has to do far too many assignments. My youngest daughter is still at school. She's doing her school-leaving exams in the summer. She'll go to university next year if she gets good enough grades in her exams. She wants to do Sociology and then get a social work qualification. My daughters are all getting a much better education than I ever had.

28.2 Complete these questions.

Clear visual aids¹ are a great way to make/have an impact on your audience. Using PowerPoint[®] slides or other presentation software can create a very effective presentation.

You should keep slides simple with just a few words or images on each one. Be sure to use a clear font which is easy to read.

Think about your key points² for each area and try to write these in just a few words on the slide. You might want to use bullet points to help the audience follow your argument³.

If you are presenting numbers or data, pie charts, bar charts or graphs are often the clearest way to present them.

Using pictures or animations can help bring the presentation to life⁴ and make it more memorable, but too many can be confusing and distracting.

- e) language. It can have a big impact.
- f) speaking more than death. That's crazy!
- g) the audience's attention by asking questions.

29.2 Look at B. Correct the eight collocation errors in this text about presentations.

Do you want to give great presentations which give an impact on the audience? Firstly, make sure that your slides are easy to watch. Don't use an unusual or small font. Also, don't have too much text on each slide. Keep them simply so people can take your argument. Use pictures or examples to carry your ideas to life. You can also use cake charts or bar tables to show figures or data more clearly. Finally, repeat your big points several times to make sure the audience has understood your message.

29.3 Read these remarks by different people. Then answer the questions.

Rory made us all answer questions and get involved in his presentation – it was great! Isabel repeated the main point at least three times, but at least we all remembered it! Jason's sales presentation was really successful – we all wanted to buy his products. Amelia used lots of slides with pictures and even some short video clips. John gave us all a printed copy of the main points from the presentation at the end. Fiona's slides only had three or four short bullet points on them.

1	Who had prepared handouts?	4	Who kept their slides simple?
2	Who gave an interactive presentation?	5	Who gave an effective presentation?

Things you might do at work

Bella has a job as a PA. Basically her role is to take charge of her boss, who is not a very organised person, and make sure nothing goes wrong. She makes appointments for her boss and she makes sure he keeps his appointments. She spends a lot of time answering the phone and fielding telephone calls¹ on his behalf. When her boss has to travel, she makes the reservations for him. When her boss has to give a presentation, she makes all the preparations that are required, including making photocopies of any papers that he needs. She arranges meetings for him and she takes the minutes² at the meetings. Bella is a very well-organised person. She keeps a record of everything she does at work and sets herself targets. She does her best to achieve her goals. Every morning she makes a list of everything she needs to do. Today the first thing on her list is 'Hand in my notice'³! Jeffries: I set up a small business selling office equipment in 2001. Then in 2003, I went into partnership with my old friend, Ethan Smith. We made a loss for the first two years, but then things got better and we've made a profit for most years ever since. But there have been bad times, too.

Interviewer: In what way?

Jeffries: Well, during the economic recession, a lot of small businesses were going under¹, and I thought our business would fold². All around us, small firms were going bankrupt³. But in 2010 we won a contract, despite stiff competition, to supply the local government offices. That was an important moment for us. We took on staff and expanded. We were proud that we had created jobs for local people at a time when unemployment was high. Our sales figures improved steadily and soon we had an annual turnover⁴ of more than eighteen million pounds.

Interviewer: So what's the secret of your success?

Jeffries: Well, we're quite cautious. For instance, we always carry out⁵ market research before launching a new product. But we also firmly believe in customer service, especially after-sales service. But at the end of the day, running a successful business is a combination of hard work, luck and intuition.

Interviewer: Finally, there are rumours that you may float the company⁶ on the stock market.

Jeffries: At the moment we have no intention of going public⁷. People shouldn't believe everything they read online!

Academic writing 1: giving opinions

A Reviewing the work of academics

Look at these extracts from reviews in academic journals.

In 1998, Lucas Georgescu published the results of his groundbreaking research on genetics. His latest paper also makes a significant contribution to the field. He sets out some powerful arguments which will shape¹ our thinking for years to come.

In this latest book, Marina Kass gives an account of Karl Marx's philosophy and provides evidence to support the claim that Garpov seriously misinterpreted Marx. In addition, the book offers a concise² summary of the present state of Marxist philosophy.

Partridge strenuously defends her theory, which has come under attack recently in several journals. She argues that the Prime Minister played a central role in the political crisis of 1811, and goes into great detail to support her argument.

² short and clear

Nathan Peel attempts to establish a connection between mobile phone use and physical damage to users' brains, but he does not offer irrefutable proof³ and the statistics do not show any significant trends.

B Stating things strongly and less strongly

The sentences below express opinions, either strongly or less strongly.

Strong expressions of opinion

The invention of the steam engine was the key factor in the birth of the industrial revolution. The events of 1954 are a perfect example of how political leaders make misjudgements that have serious long-term effects.

This is a clear illustration of the importance of a strong monetary policy.

Less strong expressions of opinion

The figures offer a tentative explanation of the causes of acid rain pollution. [an explanation given by someone who is not totally certain that it is the correct explanation]

The statistics broadly support the view that the economy is heading towards recession.

C Other general academic collocations

There is a strong tendency in the work of some linguists to suggest that spoken language is inferior to written language.

We must first gather evidence, then carry out a detailed study of all the factors that play a part in social conditioning.

You cannot expect your claim to be accepted if you cannot offer supporting evidence.

Simon Hart challenges the theory of social change put forward by Professor Kemp.

It is important in academic writing always to acknowledge your sources. If you fail to do this, you will commit plagiarism. [use another person's idea or a part of their work and pretend that it is your own]

Common mistakes

Academic writing 2: structuring an argument

Organising the text

Here are some useful collocations for organising one's arguments.

Adverbs in English fall into two main categories: those ending in -ly (e.g. softly) and those with other endings (e.g. well).

Later, I shall make reference to the work of Georgi Perelmutter, a leading figure in the field of zoology.

In this chapter, I draw a distinction between societies where democracy has developed slowly and those where it came about quickly or suddenly.

Chapter 3 raises important questions about the need for transport planning in rapidly growing urban environments. It also touches on issues such as pollution.

But we also need to take into consideration the economic history of Latin America as a whole.

This chapter makes a case for re-examining the assassination of President Kennedy in the light of evidence which has emerged since 1963.

В Reinforcing arguments

Look at these extracts from university lectures and note the collocations.

Many studies have attempted to assess the significance of diet in the prevention of cancer.

Wastov lays emphasis on examining the vital first three years of a child's development.

These statistics lend support to the view that attitudes to the environment are changing fundamentally.

Some economists hold firmly to the belief that a certain level of unemployment is inevitable.

More collocations for referring to arguments

The book The Eye of the Universe draws an analogy¹ between the birth of the universe and a lottery. It also draws parallels² between the formation of new stars and the birth and death of flowers. It presents the case for a complete rethinking of how we understand space. The author, Patrick Rivaux, puts forward the argument that the universe is as it is because we humans are here looking at it. The author takes up / adopts the position that the universe cannot have any beginning or end, and states his opinion that we can never understand the universe using the human ideas of time and space. He argues convincingly³ that the universe has a unique nature. He draws attention to new research which suggests that other universes may also exist alongside ours. He briefly summarises⁴ the views of leading physicists and mathematicians, disagrees profoundly⁵ with some of them and draws the conclusion that science alone cannot solve the mystery of the universe.

¹ makes a comparison between things which have similar features, to help explain an idea

² says that something is very similar to something else

³ argues in a way that makes people believe that something is true or right

⁴ expresses the most important ideas in a short and clear form

⁵ disagrees very strongly or in an extreme way

33.4 Correct the nine collocation errors in this review of an academic article.

Kerr takes in a controversial position in his latest article. He gets forward the argument that differences in behaviour between the sexes can be explained totally by the genes. He attempts to do a case for educating boys and girls separately in their primary school years. He argues, occasionally persuadingly, that both sexes would benefit from this. He pulls attention to recent research which, he claims, makes support for his argument. However, he fails to draw a number of important factors into consideration. He also gives no reference to the important work of Potter and Sinclair in this field. I am sure that I will not be alone in disagreeing highly with many of his conclusions.

Talking about criminals

Note the collocations in these news clips.

The Judge, Mr Newell, said that Hickey was a hardened criminal¹ who had committed 12 serious offences. He ordered that Hickey should serve a sentence of at least 15 years in prison.

¹ someone who has committed a lot of crimes

The lawyer for the prosecution, Mr Arthur Larchwood, stated that Henry Banks was already a convicted criminal² when he was appointed chairman of the company but that nobody knew this fact. He had a conviction for robbery dating back to 1996.

² someone declared officially in a court of law to be guilty of a crime

The Justice Minister said that the men were not political prisoners but were common criminals³ who had committed acts of terrorism.

³ low class criminal, negative term

The judge said it was vital that anyone with a criminal record⁴ should not be able to get a job where large sums of money were placed in their care. Charles Amworth, 26, had served two years in a prison for young offenders ten years ago before working for the bank.

4 list kept by the police of someone's previous crimes

В

Politicians on crime

Politicians often make speeches about crime. Here are some extracts from recent ones.

"In the fight against crime we will not just target serious crime, but all crime, including street crime and vehicle crime, so that the streets will be safer for everyone."

"If someone breaks into your house, steals your car, or robs you in the street, then of course you feel society has let you down. That's why we're determined to tackle crime."

"We are doing everything in our power to combat crime. The crime rate has come down, and that is because we have put 10,000 more police officers on the streets and focused on juvenile crime¹, because that is where the problem begins."

¹ crime relating to young persons not yet old enough to be considered adults

"This government is doing very little to fight crime. We have all had some experience of the recent crime wave in our cities, whether it is petty crime² or more serious offences."

² crime not considered serious when compared with some other crimes

"The crime figures are the worst since 1995. We have had a spate³ of burglaries in this part of the city, vehicle theft, drug abuse and so on, and police have reported a staggering increase in the number of acts of mindless vandalism. It is time the party in power did something."

³ large number of events, especially unwanted ones, happening at about the same time

Common mistakes

Don't forget the difference between steal and rob. A person steals something, e.g. He stole a car / some money, but robs someone or an institution, e.g. She robbed an elderly person / a bank. Steal is often used in the passive, e.g. My car was stolen.

A War

When war broke out¹, my grandfather joined the army. War was declared on his 25th birthday. He didn't want to go to war but he had no choice. The government were sending troops to the south, where they expected fierce fighting. At first there were just minor incidents but soon it developed into all-out war². My grandfather has told me how terrified he was the first time he came within firing range³ of the enemy. They saw him and opened fire⁴ but he was able to escape. A couple of his friends, though, were killed or taken prisoner. After several months, our army went into action in the first decisive battle of the war. The battle raged⁵ for several days. My grandfather said he hated being involved in fighting the war and that the only armies we should have should be peacekeeping forces. He can never forget the horrors of war, and he believes that we must do everything we can to avert⁶ war in the future. I agree.

- ¹ suddenly started
- ² a complete/total war
- ³ the distance within which the enemy could hit him by firing their guns
- ⁴ started shooting
- ⁵ the battle was very violent
- ⁶ prevent something bad from happening

A The environment

Look at these extracts from letters to an international magazine.

Your article on climate change was excellent. Rising sea levels and the increase in greenhouse gases¹ are the result of our actions. We are disturbing the ecological balance everywhere, as can be seen in the decrease in fish stocks² in the oceans.

We must accept that we have seriously depleted⁵ the ozone layer in the last few decades by our selfish actions. Embracing green politics may be our best hope in the long term, but we need urgent short-term measures too.

It is clear that we must tackle pollution before it is too late. Exhaust fumes from millions of vehicles and the burning of fossil fuels³ are causing irreparable⁴ damage to our environment.

Crops fail year after year in some of the poorest parts of the world. This has brought devastating⁶ famines to some regions and equally devastating floods to others. We call these natural disasters, but it is human beings who are causing them.

B Poverty

Look at this radio interview with Pascal Delrio, an international expert, talking about poverty.

Interviewer: Mr Delrio, do you believe we can solve the problem of world poverty?

Delrio: I am more optimistic now than before. Millions of people have succeeded in escaping poverty in the last decade, but it is also true that in some regions, more people than ever are living below the poverty line, and we must help these people to lift them out of poverty.

Interviewer: But how can we achieve that?

Delrio: I accept that there is no simple solution. The widening gulf¹ between rich and poor in some countries is often due to external forces beyond their control. Some of the most deprived regions have large populations living on the margins of society, and it is for these specific groups that we can do most.

Interviewer: But poverty is not just an issue for developing countries, is it? We have thousands sleeping rough² every night in cities like London and New York, and street children in a lot of big cities around the world.

Delrio: I agree, and I accept that children and adults who live on the streets are in desperate need, and that these social conditions breed crime. But so much depends on the global economy. Right now, we have a golden opportunity to combat poverty. Perhaps we cannot eradicate³ poverty altogether, but we can certainly alleviate⁴ poverty, and that is our challenge.

Interviewer: Mr Delrio, thank you very much.

Other global problems

Thousands of people seek political asylum in other countries every year. Most are genuine asylum seekers, but some are economic migrants looking for a better life.

Hundreds of people took to the streets to demonstrate about third-world debt repayments.

A terrible earthquake hit the region last year. The death toll was massive.

The sexual exploitation of children is a world-wide problem, as is child labour.

² the number of fish

⁵ reduced something in size or amount, especially supplies of energy, money, etc.

³ fuels such as gas, coal and oil

⁴ which cannot be repaired (also irreversible)

⁶ causing a lot of damage or destruction

¹ an important difference between the ideas, opinions, or situations of two groups of people

² in the open, without shelter ³ get rid of completely ⁴ make less serious

A Sounds in nature

Look at these extracts from short stories.

At first there was an eerie¹ silence, then there was a rumble of thunder in the distance. Soon the wind was whistling through the trees and we could hear the waves crashing on the beach. The storm had begun.

It was a lovely place for a picnic. There was a little babbling² stream and birds were singing in the trees. Then we heard the patter of rain on the leaves above us. Sadly, it was turning into a typical British summer's day.

No sound broke the silence of the wintry landscape. Then suddenly two shots rang out and we heard the piercing³ cry of a dying bird. The hunting season had begun.

Everyday sounds

collocation		example
deafening, ear-splitting	sound, noise (used as a countable noun)	We heard the ear-splitting/deafening sound/noise of three huge military aircraft passing low over our heads.
excessive	noise (used uncountably)	People who make excessive noise after 10 pm are very antisocial.
background	noise	When you work in a big office you get used to constant background noise .
muffled ¹	sound	We could hear the muffled sound of music from the flat above us.
shrill ²	voice, laugh	Marie has such a shrill voice . I can't listen to her for long.
raucous ³	laughter	I could hear raucous laughter coming from the party next door.

³ high, loud and unpleasant

² loud, high sound that is unpleasant or painful to listen to

³ loud and unpleasant

⁴ harsh, unpleasant sound

⁵ make a continuous low sound

⁶ make a low, soft, continuous sound

41.1 Look at A. Choose the correct collocation.

My friends and I went camping this weekend. We put up our tent in a lovely spot beside a (1) babbling / whistling stream. The birds were (2) piercing / singing and it felt great to be so far from the noisy traffic of the town. The weather wasn't very good but it was cosy listening to the (3) rumble / patter of rain on the roof of the tent. When it eventually stopped, there was (4) an eerie / a piercing silence all around us. The silence was suddenly (5) broken / closed when a shot (6) crashed / rang out. Someone was shooting rabbits.

41.2 Are these noises loud or soft? Write L (loud) or S (soft) after each collocation.

1 a deafening sound
2 a dull thud
3 music blaring out
4 a machine whirring
7 an almighty bang
8 an ear-splitting noise
9 a machine humming
10 someone giving a sigh

5 raucous laughter 11 leaves making a rustling sound

6 a shrill voice 12 a muffled sound

41.3 Match each statement 1-8 with a response a-h.

- 1 Our neighbours really make excessive noise, I think.
- 2 Did the group react negatively to the news that the flight was delayed?
- 3 I think the neighbours might be having a party.
- 4 I hate it when chalk makes that horrible noise on the board.
- 5 I think this wonderful weather is going to change soon.
- 6 It's a comfortable hotel but it's a bit noisy, isn't it?
- 7 Did you hear that almighty bang in the middle of the night?
- 8 Did the child react when she had the injection?

- a Yes, you can tell by their raucous laughter.
- b Yes, I thought I heard a rumble of thunder in the distance.
- c Yes, she gave a cry of pain.
- d Yes, the roar of the traffic kept me awake most of the night.
- e Yes, it really is too much to play such loud music after midnight.
- f Yes, I was woken by what sounded like a loud explosion.
- g Yes, they all gave a groan of disappointment.
- h Yes, it's a horrible grating sound, isn't it?

41.4 Answer these questions.

- 1 What is more likely to make a dull thud a person falling out of bed onto a carpeted floor in the room above you or a heavy metal box falling onto a stone floor?
- 2 Who is more likely to have shrill voices primary schoolchildren or old age pensioners?
- 3 If waves are crashing on the beach, are they more likely to be little waves or big waves?
- 4 If you hear a piercing cry, is it more likely to be from a machine or from a bird?
- 5 What is more likely to make an ear-splitting noise a group of motorbikes roaring past or a large waterfall in a fast-running river?

A Distance

collocation	example
a considerable/long/short distance from	The hotel is a considerable distance from the beach. [quite a long way]
within commuting/walking distance	We have to live within commuting distance of my husband's office. [where it is possible to travel to work every day]
cover/travel (a distance of) × kilometres	On our cycling tour we managed to cover (a distance of) about 40 kilometres a day.
far-off/far-flung places	Zachary is always travelling to far-off/far-flung places. [distant]
at close range	I've never seen a member of the royal family at such close range before. [so near] neighbouring town/country/area	Many people who work here actually live in neighbouring towns .

B Little, small and large

We talk about low prices, low wages, low levels. (NOT small)

We say small quantities, small numbers, small amounts, a small increase. (NOT little) The opposite is large quantities, large numbers, large amounts, a large increase.

Similarly, we talk about problems or objects being on a large scale or on a small scale: If you are walking in the mountains you need a large scale map. The UK has similar problems to the USA, but on a smaller scale.

In informal spoken English we often use little after another adjective to make it sound more friendly, e.g. poor little Joe, dear little dog, nice little room.

Little can also mean young, e.g. little brother [informal: younger brother, NOT small brother; the opposite is big brother]. Sometimes little or small suggests that something is not very important, e.g. a little problem, I've got a lot of little things to do, to make someone look small, to make small talk [talk socially, about unimportant subjects].

Other size collocations

We can talk about fat books and slim books as well as fat people and slim people. Only people (not books) can be plump or skinny or painfully thin.

We use a great deal of (NOT large or big) in contexts like this:

She should be able to help you because she has a great deal of time / a great deal of money / a great deal of energy / a great deal of enthusiasm.

Major and minor often collocate with words relating to problems or points in an argument, e.g. major/minor difference, major/minor change, major/minor effect, major/minor difficulty, major/minor point, major/minor issues, major/minor factor.

Common mistakes

Take care with the different collocations that go with tall and high. We talk about tall people, tall trees, tall buildings, but high mountains, high prices, high interest rates, high heels, high tide, high jump. Make a note of any collocations with tall or high as you notice them.

Key walking collocations

Cathy always preferred to go places on foot rather than driving. She loved going for a walk in the park in the early morning. There were always a surprising number of people around. Some were taking a stroll with their dogs, while more energetic people chose to go running. Cathy preferred to go for a run in the evenings. In the morning she liked a brisk walk. Today she was surprised to see a man pacing up and down beside the lake. He was taking long steps as if he was measuring the length of the lake. Cathy was puzzled but thought little more of it at the time.

Walking through life

Walking collocations are often used metaphorically. Notice the examples in this text.

Jack always did very well at school. He walked¹ every exam he ever went in for. His teachers used to call him a walking encyclopaedia. It was only when he left school that he began to run into problems. He couldn't decide what job to choose. Many different walks of life appealed to him. He didn't want to rush headlong into² something that he would later regret. Eventually he decided he most wanted to become a writer. The next day he took his first faltering steps³ at writing a novel. After only a month or two he had made great strides⁴ and was ready to take his book to a publishing house. It was here that he ran up against some opposition. He seemed to get off on the wrong foot⁵ with the publishers, who didn't like him and turned his book down. They're sorry now! A second publisher accepted his novel and it's already a best-seller world-wide.

¹ passed very easily (informal) ² start doing something too quickly

³ not very confident steps. You can also talk about careful/tentative steps when someone is doing something which they are not confident about.

Remembering and sensing

Remembering

Notice all the memory collocations in this dialogue between two old school friends.

Beth: I saw Terry last night. Do you remember her? We were at school together.

Emma: No, my long-term memory¹ is terrible these days. Come to think of it, my short-term memory² isn't that brilliant either. And I used to have such a good memory! Anyway, give me a clue³.

Beth: She was the one with long black hair and glasses. You always used to say that she reminded you strongly of that singer you used to like.

Emma: Oh, yes. I vaguely remember her now. She used to be friends with Jo, didn't she?

Beth: Yes. I'd clean forgotten⁴ about her too. She ran over to me in the street and said hello. My mind went blank⁵. I could remember her face but I'd completely forgotten her name. But once we started talking, the memories came flooding back⁶. My earliest memory of her is that we all went to the beach with her parents one weekend when we were about 12.

Emma: Oh yes. Now you're stirring up memories⁷ for me. I can distinctly remember being stung by a jellyfish in the water.

Beth: I can see why you wanted to blot out that memory⁸!

Emma: I can vividly remember it now though. Actually, the whole weekend was an unforgettable experience. We told ghost stories all night if I remember rightly.

Beth: Oh yes, that's right. Now I remember it well. It's terrible how memories fade⁹ as time passes, isn't it! Mind you, I'm happy to lose some of my more painful memories of school.

⁶ lots of memories returned

Common mistakes

I've forgotten my homework. I left it at home. NOT I've forgotten my homework at home.

Sensing

Read these problem letters from a magazine and notice the collocations relating to sensing.

When I first met my new boss, I had/got the impression that he might be a difficult person to work for. I sensed some tension between us. Now I have a feeling that he is trying to make things difficult for me. I don't know whether I should trust my intuition¹ and hand in my resignation. Or am I just being ridiculously over-sensitive?

Kim T.

For the last few weeks I've been much more sensitive to heat and sensitive to light than I used to be. I've always had sensitive skin and sensitive teeth but this is much worse than ever before. My hands have also started going numb² if I get at all cold. I used to have an acute³ sense of smell and acute hearing but I don't any more.

Jan P.

Common mistakes

Remember the difference between a sensitive person [a person who is easily upset] and a sensible person [a person with good judgement].

More formal ways of discussing beliefs

Look at this extract from a student essay and notice the collocations referring to beliefs.

The writer seems to make assumptions¹ based on an unshakeable belief in the superiority of her own value system. She seems to be unaware of the extent to which her own set of beliefs has coloured her judgement². Her research leads her to conclude that military action was justified. However, her evidence is based on one single document and attaches too much importance to this. I do not trust her judgement. Moreover, other documents cast doubt on³ her conclusions. Opinions on the issue are divided⁴ and my own considered opinion⁵ is that the writer is not to be trusted. I have serious misgivings about 6 her research and I have doubts about the accuracy of some of her facts.

56.2 Correct the seven collocation errors in this text.

I wish we can solve a big problem we have regarding our student committee. Opinions are separated about how to approach the issue and, naturally, some members have very heavy opinions. Some of their views are based on their unstirred belief that they are always right and that no one can challenge their group of beliefs. My own thoughtful opinion is that we should have new elections, but I know that others have quite a different meaning.

Hi Rita,

Have you made a decision yet about the new job? It must be difficult. It's such a big decision to have to move to London and everything. I always put off making decisions till the last possible moment. I bet you're the same. I detected a slight hesitation in your last email. Are you having second thoughts? Anyway, let me know.

Dear Carl,

You've probably heard that the management have taken the decision to close the Madrid office. There was a lot of discussion, but apparently it was a unanimous decision in the end. There's always been a degree of uncertainty surrounding the future of the Madrid office, but let's just hope this will now be seen as a wise decision by everyone.

Dear Mary,

After weeks of hesitating, it seems Matt has arrived at a decision about the research fund. He's going to increase it by £10,000. I think that's a sensible decision that combines generosity and sound judgement. But he's also defending his decision to close down the San Antonio project, which is losing a lot of money. However, he's reserving judgement on the Berlin project until he gets more reliable information.

Choices, opportunities, advice

Tim: I'm going to have to make a choice soon about next year. I've been given the chance of going on a six-month expedition to South America and I've been offered a job in a bookshop here.

Laura: Wow! South America! That sounds like the opportunity of a lifetime! How could you say no?

Tim: Well, believe it or not, I don't have a burning desire to see the world, I'd much prefer just to stay at home. Anyway, I'm going to consider all the options before I decide.

Laura: Well, I know you never take my advice but I would strongly adviseyou to think of the future. Overseas experience is much more useful than working in your home town. You're lucky to have a choice, a lot of people stay at home because they have no option.

Tim: I know, I know, but it's a tough choice. You wouldn't understand.

Laura: Well, I think you're just taking the soft option if you choose the bookshop. I can't believe you're going to pass up the opportunity of a trip to South America.

Tim: Well, we all face difficult choices now and then.

Laura: Difficult! You're mad! Look, just don't reject South America out of hand. Promise me you'll think about it.

Tim: Yes, yes, I already said I'm going to weigh up the options and come to a decision.

Horoscopes often focus on choices and decisions in people's lives. Read horoscopes in English and note any new collocations connected with decisions and choices.

Claiming and denying

Making accusations

A government minister is today facing accusations of taking bribes. There have been heavy hints¹ about this for some time. An article in The Moon last week clearly implied² that a top political figure was involved in a scandal and dropped a number of broad hints³ as to who it was. A leaked document⁴ published in today's Moon, however, makes a number of serious allegations⁵, which openly accuse the Minister of corruption. The Minister has issued a statement⁶, saying the claims are unfounded⁷. He claims that he has been wrongly accused by The Moon because of its long-running battle⁸ with the government.

В

Putting forward a point of view

Jones puts forward an interesting theory¹ of language learning, backing up² his argument with thorough data. Fully accepting the fact that different learners find different methods useful, Jones makes the point³ that motivation is the key factor in most learners' success. Although this has been widely acknowledged⁴ in general terms for some time, Jones is more precise than most, stating clearly that motivation is more important than all other factors, and substantiating⁵ this claim with impressive data.

C Denying

collocation	example
strongly deny	The PM strongly denied claims of corruption made against him.
deny charges / an accusation	Despite the evidence against him, the accused denied the charges .
deny a rumour / an allegation	The pop star has denied all the rumours about her marriage.
disclaim responsibility	The hotel disclaims all responsibility for guests' vehicles.
reject an idea / a suggestion	Ann rejected all Joe's suggestions about how to decorate their flat.
run contrary to	The research findings run contrary to popular belief.
contradictory evidence/advice	Contradictory evidence made it hard for the jury to reach a verdict.

Common mistakes

Note these collocations: deny/reject a claim, deny a rumour / an allegation / an accusation but reject an idea / a suggestion and refuse an invitation/offer. You deny/reject/refuse something. You deny that something is true. You can also refuse to do something (in the future) but deny doing something (in the past).

Praising and criticising

A Praising

I have nothing but praise for this production of Dragon Knights and offer my congratulations to all the cast. The thunderous applause at the end of last night's performance was richly deserved. The actors had managed to put on a simply dazzling production. James King, in particular, gave an outstanding performance. Of course, the cast cannot take full credit for its success; we must also warmly congratulate the director. He has received critical acclaim¹ many times in the past. He justly deserves all the rave reviews² he will undoubtedly receive from many others as well as myself. We must also give credit to the production's wardrobe department. I am sure they will also win a lot of praise for their original and exciting costumes.

Also note these collocations relating to praise:

The orchestra received a standing ovation for their performance of the symphony. [the audience liked the performance so much that they stood up to applaud]

Your boss thinks the world of you. He's always singing your praises to me. [informal]

- 14.4 Possible answer based on the experience of one of the authors:

Last year I went to California. I made all the travel arrangements myself over the internet so it was cheaper than using a travel agent. I got a charter flight and good budget accommodation in San Francisco for a few nights. Although it was a long, tiring journey from London, it was worth it. While in San Francisco, I took a day trip to the other side of the Bay, across the Golden Gate Bridge, and also went on a boat trip, which was fun. I had a smooth flight on the return journey but I was exhausted when I got home.

hurt someone's feelings

These collocations may describe negative aspects of character – it depends on your point of view:

lose your temper

painfully shy

snap decisions

brutally honest

- 17.2 I know that I have a tendency to bear a grudge, but I just can't forget something bad a friend did to me recently. She has a selfish streak and doesn't care sometimes how much she hurts my feelings. I am finding it increasingly hard to keep my temper with her. But perhaps it might be better to lose my temper and let her know how I really feel?
 - 2 I have always tried to put others first and not to think of myself. I believe you should not lose your patience with your friends, but if someone seems to enjoy making a fool out of you in front of other people, do those rules of friendship still apply?
 - 3 I'm a little shy, though not painfully shy, but sometimes I think I give the impression that I'm unfriendly. How can I convince people that I'm good company and worth getting to know?
 - 4 Should I talk about personal matters to my closest colleague at work? She is not very good at keeping secrets and she has a very vivid imagination. She always promises not to tell other people, but I'm not sure she always keeps her word.
 - 5 My boyfriend has a really friendly, outgoing personality and a great sense of humour. He's highly intelligent and has a razor-sharp mind. The perfect man. We've been together now for a year, and I like him a lot, but don't love him any more. Should I be brutally honest with him and tell him?
 - 6 I think a friend is destroying himself with drugs. I feel a sense of responsibility towards him. He has always been fiercely loyal to me in good and bad times, which is a wonderful aspect of his personality. I feel I ought to contact the police or social services, but I don't want to make a snap decision which I'll regret later.

23.1 Matthew: Have you downloaded that new e-book that has just come out about Ireland?

Camilla: No, I don't use my e-book reader app much and I don't visit websites with book reviews. What's it about?

Matthew: Well, it deals with the Irish War of Independence. It's very authentic and it manages to capture the atmosphere of Ireland at the beginning of the 20th century.

Camilla: Is it just historical facts, then?

Matthew: No, the central characters are two brothers who have different opinions about the war and this divides their family. In the opening chapters they're happy and do everything together, but by the closing chapter they have become enemies.

Camilla: Mm, it sounds a bit depressing to me.

Matthew: Well, it certainly doesn't have a happy ending, but I liked it, and it's highly recommended by all the critics.

Camilla: So, a book with a pleasant beginning and a sad end(ing). Not for me, I'm afraid. I prefer

- 33.4 Kerr takes up a controversial position in his latest article. He puts forward the argument that differences in behaviour between the sexes can be explained totally by the genes. He attempts to make a case for educating boys and girls separately in their primary school years. He argues, occasionally convincingly, that both sexes would benefit from this. He draws attention to recent research which, he claims, lends support to his argument. However, he fails to take a number of important factors into consideration. He also makes no reference to the important work of Potter and Sinclair in this field. I am sure that I will not be alone in disagreeing profoundly with many of his conclusions.
